The DI Trip to Knoxville, Tenn.

As reported by Joni Groebelinghoff to the Groton Daily Independent

Sunday

The Groton DI teams started loading up for the trip home at 7:30am and left Knoxville at 8:30am. Our first stop was in Gordonsville, TN for fuel and food. The next stop in the afternoon was in Vienna, IL once again for fuel, a stretch and a quick Dairy Queen trip. The whole crew surprised the birthday girl, Joni Groebelinghoff, by singing happy birthday to her in DQ and then again later in the evening at "Mattingly's" in Florissant, MO. Our days of traveling will come to an end as we will be back in Groton on Monday evening.

Both teams stopping for a quick DQ treat asked if they could "photobomb" us along with some kids from Indiana. They were trying to complete a scavenger hunt during their Global Finals trip. Then they made a "spirit tunnel" for us to run through and we returned the favor for them.

The Closing Ceremony was the highlight of the evening followed by the Teen Party. We are happy to say that "Out of the Boxers" tied for 36th place and "5 Confused People" tied for 33rd place. All in all, the week was full of laughter, meeting new people, learning, and making memories. Both teams and their managers would like to thank the community and surrounding area for supporting us during our fundraising efforts. We are proud to be able to represent Groton and the great state of South Dakota.

Saturday

The last day of Global Finals proved to be another fun-filled day which included the Instant Challenge for both "Out of the Boxers" and "5 Confused People". At the Instant Challenge site, teams from all levels (elementary, middle, secondary, and university) are gathered in groups and then spectators and fans are asked to form a human tunnel for the teams to run through on their way into the building. The participants are cheered on by a huge crowd of people and after their challenge they are given the chance to perform their "TADA". There is an open space where the team gathers and does something unique to showcase their talents or just to be recognized for being at Global Finals. The South Korean buddy team to "5 Confused People" came to watch our TADA and then we all ate lunch together and visited one final time. As the two buddy teams and one of the younger South Korean teams were lining up to get a group photo, a team manager from Michigan

Friday

Our adventures continued in Knoxville on day #3 of Global Finals. The "Out of the Boxers" team had a free day today so they participated in pin trading, the Duct Tape Playground activities, 3M Explore the Uncharted exhibit, and Movie Night Under the Stars. The girls on the team created a tutu for each of them to wear to the movie night on the drive to Knoxville. They looked stunning!

The team of "5 Confused People" had the opportunity to watch the performance of their buddy team from South Korea. Both teams then got together at lunch and exchanged gifts. We found it to be somewhat of a challenge to communicate, but for the most part were able to learn some things about each other's teams. They were excited to receive a SD dreamcatcher pin as part of their gift. Today was performance day for the "5 Confused People" and we were happy to have a great audience consisting of our new South Korean friends and our old South Dakotan friends! The team's original improvisational skit included an author, a tiger and a storm-chaser. Their pandemonium was little kids who keep pestering you to play games. They did a great job and gave an entertaining performance. All in all, it was another successful day.

Thursday

Day #2 in Knoxville proved to be a very eventful day for both Groton DI teams. Pin trading was a big adventure as some of the favorite pins to search for and collect were: Frozen, Pokémon, and Divergent. Our South Dakota Wizard of Oz pins and the dream catchers seem to be going over well too. The "Out of the Boxers" team gave another great performance of their solution to the Going to Extremes challenge! The "5 Confused People" team spent the morning finishing their costumes for the Duct Tape Costume Ball. A new Guinness Book of World Records event was set at 752 people for the most people dressed in duct tape. Actually there were many more people at this event than were counted! The "Boxers" dressed as Santa, Mrs. Santa and the elves and "5 Confused People" dressed as Muffins, Bakers and a Delivery Driver. We had an absolute awesome time and both teams were able to get their picture taken with Destination Imagination's CEO, Chuck Cadle! We were all amazed at some of the great costumes we saw: anything from Where's Waldo to garden gnomes to the cast of Shrek! There were great memories made in Knoxville today!!

Wednesday

On Monday, May 19 two Groton Area Destination Imagination teams left at 7:00am for Knoxville. The first day of travel was a long day for "Out of the Boxers" and "5 Confused People" as we stopped in Fairview Heights, Illinois for the night. On Tuesday, we arrived in Knoxville and got settled into our apartments right on the campus of the University of Tennessee. So far our first day involved pin trading, checking out the souvenir sales, and opening ceremony. The "Boxers" went swimming and "5 Confused People" spent several hours constructing costumes for the Duct Tape Costume Ball Thursday night. On Thursday afternoon, the "Boxers" will present their solution to their challenge "Going to Extremes".

Playground Equipment installed at city park

Joe Foertsch undertook a huge project. Thanks to grant and with the help of many donations, the new playground equipment at the city park was bought and installed without the help of taxpayers dollars. Foertsch said it was something he wanted to do in memory of his little boy who would have been 25 months old on Sunday. Those who volunteered their time with the project were Tom Woods, Jason Holm, Neil Gilbert, Brad Lewandowski, Dillon Vogel, the city workers and Matt Locke. Chad Menzia donated his time to haul the concrete and GCC of Aberdeen donated the concrete.

Wanted to do somethin gin memroy of my little boy. It was a bigger project than he had anticapted, but it was put together

The project was started Wednesday morning with the marking of the holes with the help of Stan from Clark Engineering. They started putting the playground together on Thursday and by Sunday evening, it was opened to the public.

The playground equipment was around $20,000.

The work has begun for the new playground equipment that is going to be installed at the Groton City Park. Joe Foertsch, on the left, is donating his time in memory of their baby to put up the playground equipment. He has also solicited a lot of other volunteer help and even has Consolidated of Aberdeen donating the concrete for the footings. Ward Gilchrist, on the digger truck, is drilling holes for the footings on Thursday.

Neil Gilbert, top, Brad Lewandowski, left, Joe Foertsch, right, and Dillon Vogel at the bottom of the slide work together to attach the slide to the playground equipment.

Joe Foretsch makes sure the equipment is level.

Joe Foretsch and company have made headway in assembling the new playground equipment on Thursday. This is a small part of the much larger play station.

Groton holds D.A.R.E. Graduation

Growing up can be hard sometimes, but Groton Fifth grade students learned some tools to help them make some good decisions and to take responsibility for their actions. These lessons came through the DARE Program and help kids avoid drug use and other situations that might be risky for them, such as bullying.

The program ended with a graduation ceremony on Tuesday for the students. During the ceremony, South Dakota Highway Patrol Officer Levi Jensen and his drug dog Bobby addressing the audience.

"Using drugs is never a good idea," Officer Jensen told students. "Nothing good ever comes from using drugs or alcohol."

Jensen has been working with Bobby for the last two years. Bobby is a specially trained Belgian Malinois that was bred and trained in Holland. When Bobby was matched up with Officer Jensen, the two spent two weeks in training, playing fetch.

"Bobby's toys are stored with different drugs," Jensen said. "This trains Bobby to find the different scents. A dog's nose is different from a human's. When you walking in to your mom's kitchen and smell beef stew, Bobby smells beef, carrots, potatoes and each individual spice. This is what makes him a good drug sniffing dog."

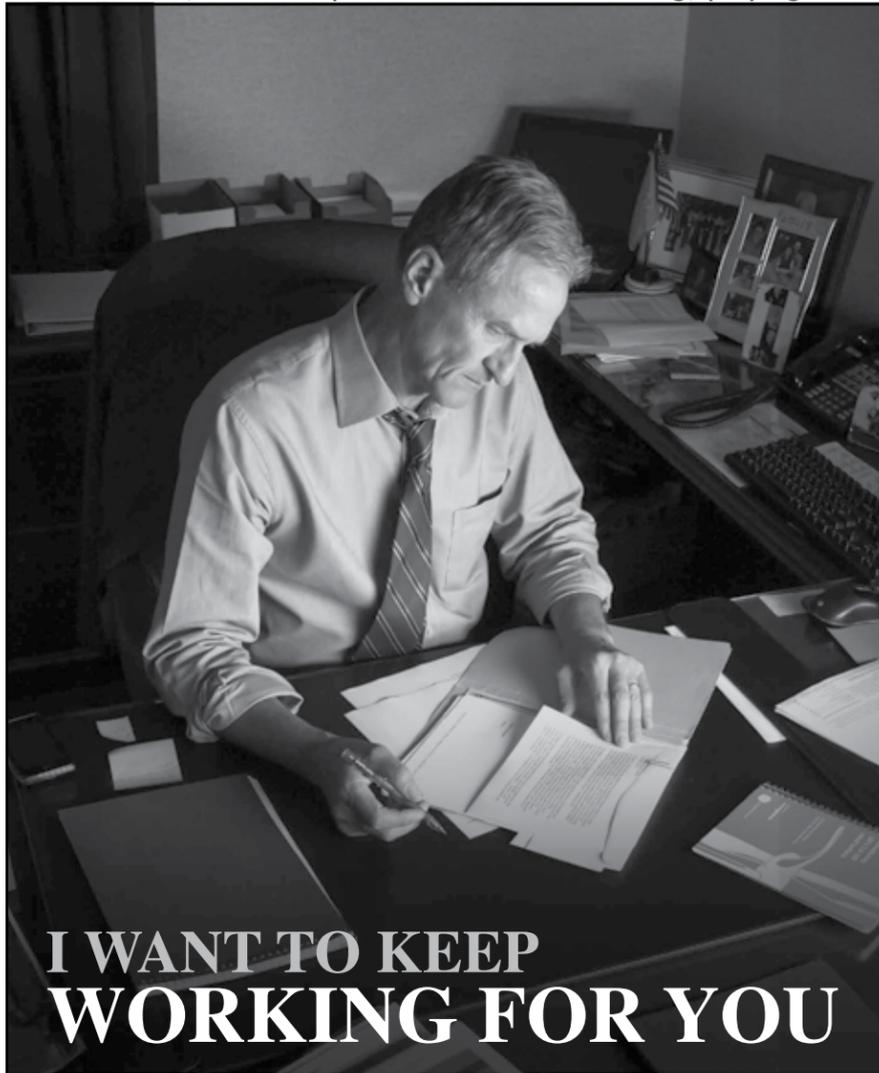

Bobby and Jensen are one of 12 dog drug sniffing teams in the state and the only one in this area. The state also has one explosive sniffing dog. During the time Bobby has been working with Jensen, he has "sniffed" and recovered upwards of $70,000 worth of drugs in that time.

Jensen told students that he remembered graduating from the DARE Program when he was in school and still has his certificate hanging in his room where he can see it every day.

"Do something with your certificate," Jensen told students. "Put it where you can see it every day to remind you of the message -Don't Do Drugs!"

DARE is a 10 week program that is taught by Groton police officers in the classroom, which allows the students to interact with the officers in a safe and controlled environment. Police Chief Stacy Mayou and Officer Justin Cleveland split the duties, each teaching a classroom.

Paul & Hanne-Marit Estwick

Services for Hunter Steven Krueger, 3, of Rapid City were held Saturday, May 24 at Paetznick-Garness Funeral Chapel, Groton. The Rev. Lloyd Redhage officiated. Burial followed at Sunset Memorial Gardens.

Hunter died May 19, 2014 at Rapid City Regional Hospital, Rapid City. He was able to be a tissue donor to help many other little ones.

Hunter Steven Krueger was born on February 4, 2011 to Amy and Josh Harmer, in Aberdeen.

Hunter was a very handsome, smart, loving boy. His smile was contagious. He enjoyed being outside playing with trucks, throwing the ball around, and playing with his dogs, Axel and Mya. Hunter had a love of animals especially the moo moos.

Mark Malmberg, DDS
19 North 6th St.

Oakes, N.D.
701-742-3401

He was a very fast little boy, full of love and energy that was often referred to as a cool little dude. He wanted to be a farmer when he grew up so he could drive tractors around all day. There was absolutely no food that Hunter would turn down especially birthday cake, which was his favorite. He loved Bubble Guppies and Paw Patrol, his favorite cartoons. Hunter and Ashton were inseparable; they had never spent a night apart. They were the best friends, as well as brothers. Hunter will forever live on in the hearts of those who knew him and loved him.

Celebrating his life through memories are his parents, Amy (Josh) Harmer and Jacob Ford; one brother, Ashton; his great-grandparents: Betty Krueger, Elaine Frederick, Mary (Berry) Lewis, Karl (Elaine) Frederick, Doris Harmer; grandparents: Steve and Cora Krueger, Kim (Dirk) Jaeger, Jim Harmer (Sherry Lemon); his aunts: Jessie Krueger, Jackie (Dominick) Flores, Jamie Harmer (Harlan Surprenant-Vogt) and uncle Jaret Harmer. He is also survived by his cousins: Miron, Gabriella, Grayson, Quinton and MaKenzie.
