Olive Grove Golf Course Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Twenty-six years ago, the green fields on the east side of Groton was a cow pasture. Today its lush green spaces mark Groton's 9-hole golf course and this past weekend, Olive Grove is celebrating 25 years.

Saturday evening was the Miss Olive Grove Competition and a talent show followed by a fundraising auction. This was the third time Olive Grove has held a Miss Olive Grove contest. The first was in 1998 when Craig Jondahl was crowned Miss Olive Grove and Ryan Schelle was the second "Queen" in 2006.

As the reigning "Queen", Miss Rylee Schelle, returned to crown the new "Queen" Saturday evening. There were 10 contestants vying for the title. They were: Miss Brenda (Blake) Ronning, Miss Charlene (Charlie) Dirks, Miss Jenifer (Jason) Hill, Miss Chastity (Chad) Kampa, Miss Candy (Craig) Dunker, Miss Deloris (Dale) Ringgenberg, Miss Brittney (Brett) Merkel, Miss Emily (Eric) Moody and Miss Augusta Kleinsasser (Austin) Schuelke. The judges for the evening were Torre and Denise Raap and Steve and Peggy Simon. Bill Schuelke was the MC.

Each of the contestants was asked a question by the judges. The field was then narrowed to four finalists: Miss Chastity Kampa, Miss Delores Ringgenberg, Miss Candy Dunker and Miss Augusta Kleinsasser Schuelke. The finalists were sequestered and brought on stage one at a time to perform one final act.

Due to a misprinting of the notice in the golf course newsletter, which stated that "a crowning of the new Miss Olive Grove would take place at the Saturday evening celebration," each finalist was asked to give their best crow. The responses had most of the audience laughing throughout the performance.

In the end, the judges had a hard time deciding on a winner and ended up naming not only a "Queen" but also a runner-up. While the judges were debating, the MC, Bill Schuelke, reminded the contestants to behave. He wanted no fighting or sore losers when the winner was announced. Miss Augusta Kleinsasser Schuelke was the runner-up and Miss Delores Ringgenberg was named the new Miss Olive Grove.

Two talent group acts entertained the audience during the evening. The first was a synchronized swimming act performed by Shorty Flihs, Randy Stanley, Bob Walters, Skippy Kettering, Steve Dunker and Jerry Johnson. The second act was a singing duet performed by "Sonny & Cher" (Austin Schuelke and Katie Kampa).

The evening ended with a fundraising auction. The golf course auctioned off the original wooden signs that had marked each hole. The signs stated what hole it was, what the par was and the lay out of the hole. Only the signs for holes 1-8 were auctioned. The golf course kept the sign for the ninth hole.

Steve Simon of Simon Auction Service did the auctioneering. Bidding was brutal on a couple of the signs. Holes one and eight marked the beginning and the ending of the auction and saw some fierce bidding action. Hole four also proved to be a favorite hole and saw an aggressive bidding war, it seemed several people have scored a hole-in-one on that hole and wanted the sign as a remembrance. At one point, when a bidder asked who was bidding against him, Simon remarked that "There are no friends at an auction!" The auction raised $8900 for the golf course.

Wrestling camp held in Groton

Youth wrestlers from six different area wrestling programs converged on Groton Wednesday to take part in a wrestling camp sponsored by the Groton Youth Wrestling program. Providing instruction at the camp was six time state high school wrestling champion Logan Storley, formerly of Webster.

"It's not often that young wrestlers in this area have a chance to work with someone of this athletic caliber," John Landry, President of the Groton Youth Wrestling Program said. "Storley has given these wrestlers a good grounding in the basics as well as providing them with advanced training techniques."

The camp ran all day on Wednesday with the instruction starting about 9 am and closing at 4pm. Throughout the day, wrestlers received instruction from Storley and then paired up and practiced the moves on each other. Some of the things the wrestlers worked on were techniques in "offense on your feet", "higher levels of attacks," and "learning what it takes to be successful."

"If they can learn one new move here at camp," Storley said. "It may give them an edge, it just makes them that much better of a wrestler."

Olive Grove hold Open House

As part of the weekend's "Celebrating 25 years" Olive Grove Golf Course held an open house on Sunday afternoon with a program highlighting the history of the golf course and honoring board members.

Tom Mahan hosted the event, with several of the original board members present. Mahan highlighted some of the highs and lows of how the golf course came to be.

"I can't believe it has been 25 years," Mahan said. "It still amazes me what we were able to accomplish."

The project was started with the donation of the land by Bob and Marion Wehde in 1988. The land had been a golf course prior to WWII, but had been used as a pasture for the last 40 years.

"Without the substantial Wehde contribution," Mahan said. "The project would have taken much longer and cost more to complete."

The project was greatly enhanced with the addition of Jack Davenport, from Milbank.

"Jack (Davenport) was a blessing," Mahan said. "Jack came to offer his advice and services. He believed in what we were trying to do."

Once the course was designed and laid out, construction began.

"The project was done with lots of donated time and equipment," Mahan said. "There were people helping haul dirt in from the Putney Slew, some donated their time as drivers others donated the equipment to do the hauling."

The dirt hauled in from the slew proved to be a key factor in the success of the golf course.

"The Putney guys kept telling us how good the "Putney Blow Sand" was," Mahan said. "When the soil report came back from Ohio State's Turf Department, they couldn't believe how good the soil was. The dirt particles are like little marbles. It can't be compressed and allows the water to filter through like it should."

Putney came to the rescue of the golf course again shortly after opening.

"The spring following opening the golf course," Mahan said. "Mud Creek overflowed and flooded the golf course. We didn't know anything about removing that amount of water. The Putney guys brought in their large pumps. The pumps were capable of pumping 1000's of gallons was water and soon the course was dry again."

With the course built, attention was then given to the clubhouse.

"Jack (Davenport) again offered his services to design the clubhouse," Mahan said. "The building was then built with donated labor by the local builders."

One contractor built the walls, another did the roof and still another did the interior work. It was all done as a group effort with many of the materials donated.

Mahan estimated the final cost of the project to be around half a million dollars.

"We never really added up the costs of the project," Mahan said, "But it cost around $250,000 for the project. I then figure that about that much again in donated time and equipment. Knowing the cost of other courses built around that time in other parts of the state, I figure we got a good deal."

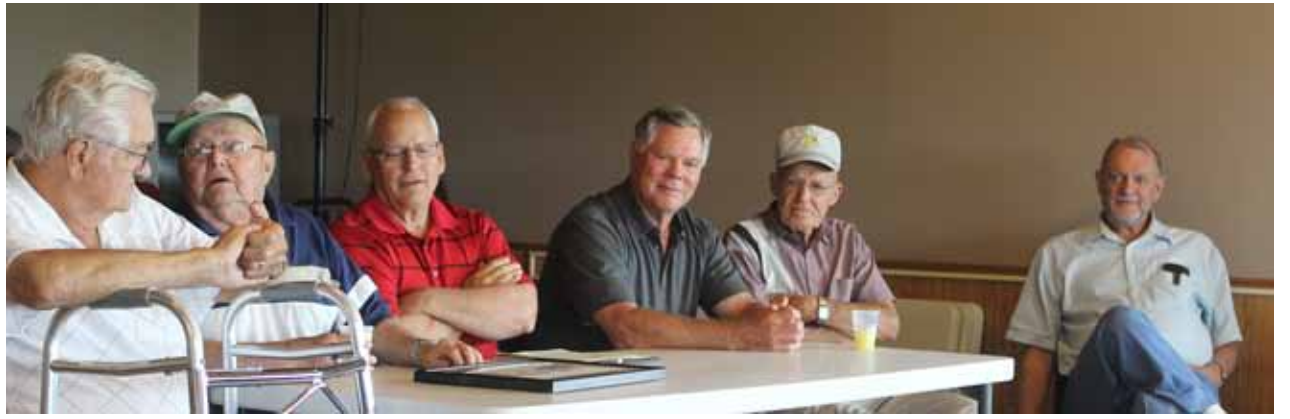

Another key factor in the success of the golf course has been the excellent staff that have worked at the golf course.

"When we started looking around from someone to run the golf course, it was mentioned that a young housewife was interested," Mahan said. "She had six young children at the time and has raised them here at the golf course while doing an outstanding job of running it for the past 25 years. Vicky (Sperry) Walters has been a valuable asset."

Mahan ended his presentation with thoughts for the future.

"The sky is the limit," Mahan said. "We are only limited by our resources."

"Hopefully people will be as graces and as generous as the last 25 years," Mahan added. "The Spirit of the club has got us to where we are today."

Members of the first Olive Grove Board of Directors shared memories of how the golf course came to be and the highs and lows of building the course. Seated are Curtis Sombke, Orville Schaller, Tom Mahan, Jim White, Bob Wehde and Dick Kolker. (Photo #8093 by Char Telkamp)

Current president of the board, Blake Ronning and Vicky Walters then presented each past and present member of the Board of Directors with a certificate of appreciation. Serving the board has been the following individuals: Dave Blackmun, Melinda Eikamp, Deb Finnesand, Ryan Fjeldheim, Lorin Flihs, Jeff Flihs, Lon Gelhaus, Doug Hamilton, Merle Hanson, Les Hinds, Joan Johnson, Jerry Johnson, Dick Kolker, Tom Mahan, Dave McGannon, Chuck Raap, Randy Ries, Blake Ronning, Mavis Rossow, Orville Schaller, Benny Schaller, Ryan Schelle, Austin Schuelke, Steve Simo, Bob Snyder, Curtis Sombke, Randy Stanley, Dick Traphagen, Brenda Waage and Jim White. Bob Wehde was also recognized as an honorary board member. Three of the past board members are now deceased and were also recognized, they were Alvin Abeln, Gene Abeln and Dale McGannon.

The board also recognized the past 25 years of service given by Vicki Walter. Brenda Waage presented her with a plaque from the board.

Olive Grove: From Dream to Celebrating 25 years

(This is a history of the building of the Olive Grove Golf Course based on newspaper accounts from that time.)

It all started as a dream that became reality. Today, Olive Grove Golf Course is celebrating 25 years of providing a fun and challenging experience to golfers of all ages.

In 1988, the Groton Chamber of Commerce sent out a survey to area residents asking "what was missing from the Groton community?" They were looking for ways to improve the way of life in Groton. The overwhelming response was "A golf course."

At about that same time, Bob and Marion Wehde were thinking the same thing and set out to do something about it. They soon entered negotiations with Gengerke Farms to purchase the land east of town. This same parcel of land had once been a golf course, but during WWII, the land had gone idle and had become a pasture.

The original golf course had been formed in 1915 and had been known as the Groton County Club. Once the course was closed due to the war, the clubhouse was used to hold dances until it too closed.

Now that the land was purchased, the next step was to form a committee to oversee the planning and hopefully building of the new golf course. Both the Groton Chamber of Commerce and the Groton Development Committee were instrumental in helping the project get off the ground. The plan was to build the golf course without the aid of tax or government money, only on donations of time and money from private individuals.

In 1998 a Board of Directors was formed to oversee the golf course construction and future. Members of that original committee were: Orville Schaller, Dale McGannon, Jim White, Bob Wehde, Tom Mahan, Curtis Sombke, Gene Abeln and Dick Kolker.

An agreement was worked out with the City of Groton, in which the land would be donated to the city and leased back to the golf course on a 25 year lease for $10. It was hoped that this would always provide for the golf course, even if something happened to the board.

Knowing that the group would need some advice on getting the project underway, they invited other area towns to come see the plans. The group was rewarded with a response from Milbank resident, Jack Davenport. Davenport believed in the project and offered to design the new course. He proceeded to lay out a nine-hole course to fit into the triangle shape of the land.

With the plans coming along, funding became the issue. Many creative and innovated ideas were used to generate the money needed to build the course. James Valley Telecommunications had recently started their cable TV network and a telethon was held over the local channel. Many area residents helped with answering phones, providing talent acts, and donating time on the air to inform and entertain the viewing audience. The telethon raised $25,000. Other form of fundraising used was letter writing campaigns, private donations and lots of donated time.

Once the money started flowing, work began on the construction. Many hours of donated time was spent on laying out the course, removing unwanted trees, bulldozing the fairways and building up the greens. Many volunteers also helped haul several loads of "Putney Blow Sand" in from the Putney slew area and pea gravel from the quarry in Ortonville.

Once the fairways and greens were completed, it was time to look at the construction of the new clubhouse. Davenport also offered to design the building and area construction companies donated their time in the construction with many of the materials being donated. Soon after the clubhouse was finished, storage sheds for the golf carts was added. Bathroom facilities on the course, cart paths and landscaping also followed.

Finally the big day arrived, the golf course held their grand opening on June 1, 1989. With several area golfers using the course, a men's league was soon formed. A ladies league was formed the following year, in 1990. The Groton High School added golf to their sports program and a high school team was formed in 1993.

Over the years several tournaments have been held at the golf course. The first Best Ball Championship team was made up of Steve and Betty Dunker, Jeff Kersting, Patty Tolson, and Vern and Jean Walter. Patty Tolson and Bob Walter won the first Firecracker Tournament.

One of the favorite events held at Olive Grove, has been the "Miss Olive Grove" Contest and talent show. Several area men have tried out for this "Beauty" pageant. The pageant has been held three times over the 25 years. Craig Jondahl was crowned the first "Miss Olive Grove". Ryan Schelle was crowned in 2006 and Dale Ringgenberg is the current reigning "queen", having been crowned this weekend as part of the Olive Grove 25-years celebration.

Frederick Town June 2 Meeting Minutes

Town of Frederick June 2014 Minutes
 Chairman Scott Campbell called the Frederick Town Board meeting to order on Monday, June 2, 2014, at 7 PM in the Frederick Community Center.

Those present with Chairman Campbell were Board Members Thomas Meyer and Robert Smith, Utility Manager Richard Bakeberg, Patrons Gary Schlosser and Craig Larson, and Finance Officer, Diane Bruns.

Minutes of the May meeting were approved with a correction to New Business. It should read, "Wendy Sullivan asked for a variance but found they are 'outside of the 5' side lot setback that is required in Frederick's Zoning Ordinance"; instead of, "within 5 feet of the sidewalk." Motion was made by Meyer/Smith to approve. Motion Carried.

The Financial Report for May was reviewed with income from state taxes discussed. A motion was made by Smith/Meyer to approve. Motion Carried.

Approval of the Accounts Payable due in June was made by Meyer/Smith. Motion Carried.

ACCOUNTS PAYABLE:
 A-1 Sanitation Garbage $168.00; R. Bakeberg VA St/ Sewer/Water $75; R. Bakeberg UT Mgr St/Water/Sewer $447.90; City of Ellendale mileage Sewer $24; Dakota Pump & Control, Inc. OLD BUSINESS:
 The utility report given by Manager Rich Bakeberg included replacing parts and repairing pieces in the bathrooms at Simmons Park, including doors; working to level all 3 cells at the Lagoon and has applied for a Permit to Discharge into the Maple River. The city has been sampling and all levels are within boundaries. Complaints of sewer smell a couple of times has been the Lagoon turning over, similar to a lake, and the wind coming from the right (wrong) direction. He's also working on getting some lines flushed.

The Circulating Pump in the Water Tower is off.
 Campbell has been reviewing past inspection reports on the Lagoon from the DENR and passed info onto Bakeberg.

Dakota Pump and Control Co., Inc. will be coming to install new elbow and new check valves at the Lagoon.

The board would like signs to include NO DIVING, NO LIFE-GUARD/SWIM AT OWN RISK to be placed at the Maple River. No company has been found that makes signs.

Frederick Forward - was not represented. Scott will call Ellendale about spraying for mosquitoes before Finn Fest. The Board issued a Malt Liquor License to FF for June 20-22, 2014, with the stipulation they hire security and, have total responsibility for preventing any/all underage drinking. They will also have to have a current Certificate of Liability on file in the Finance Office. Motion was made by Meyer/Campbell to issue permit w/stipulation. Motion Carried. FF will also be issued a permit to set off fireworks on June 21, 2014 and has permission to block off street for dance on same night.

A proposal from JM Electric, Inc., of Frederick, for Simmons Park Electrical upgrades was accepted. The proposal is for $5800. It was agreed any costs over that amount would have to be paid for by FF. Not in the proposal but being done as a courtesy to the Town of Frederick, JM Elect., Inc., is also upgrading all receptacles to GFCI protected, installing lighting in the Shelter, and upgrading the lighting in the Gazebo.

other Frederick Community Groups including Historical Society, Development Corporation, or E.B. Library were present.

Other Old Business included a review of the Cont. Western Ins. review letter; discussion on danger of dugout around HS building which Campbell will talk to J. Dumire about, and also discussion on inside fuel tank. No actions taken.

G. Schlosser was re-inquiring about annexing or vacating property out of city. Campbell has been communicating with Mary Worlie of the Brown County Assessor's Office about the differences between the mil levy and the tax base. Campbell has more questions to discuss with Worlie and tabled the topic to July's meeting.

NEW BUSINESS:
 A fund raising request for a donation from the EBL was declined. The Town of Frederick supports the library in other ways.

Garbage fees for non-residents was tabled.

Answering many questions about frozen water lines, water loss is the responsibility of the home-owner.

CORRESPONDENCE:
 It has been suggested over the years to raise rates on both water and sewer, no action was ever taken wishing to keep rates low. Frederick would not qualify for a state grant or loan for either water or sewer repair or replacement should the need arise, because of this. It was suggested in 2010 that sewer fee be up to $22, 2014 = $38-40!

Be aware that the board will consider raising rates (slowly) for water and sewer, at the August Board meeting. Future plans include lining some manholes and replacing others.

Frederick's street lights in the NE section of town need attention. MDU will be notified.

A Keep-fill letter from Farmers Union Oil of Ellendale was presented. The Finance Officer will call and order Summer Fill for EBL and CC/Fire Hall.

Late water bills were discussed and letters will be sent. Also discussed were unkept yards in Frederick which will receive a letter. It is a one-time courtesy before the city does the mowing at a cost.

ADJOURNMENT:
 There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned. Motion was made by Smith/Campbell. Motion Carried.
