Aug. 5 South Dakota Honor Choir at USD Draws Musicians From Around the State

VERMILLION, S.D. -- About 150 of South Dakota's best choral musicians will present the 43rd annual South Dakota Honor Choir on Friday, Aug. 5, on the University of South Dakota campus. Gabbie Kramer of Groton Area is one of the choir members.

The 7:30 p.m. concert at Aalfs Auditorium in Slagle Hall is presented by USD and the South Dakota American Choral Director's Association (SD-ACDA). The musicians are chosen by statewide audition and rehearse on campus five to seven hours a day for a week in preparation for the concert that will feature several classical and contemporary musical selections.

The guest conductor for this year's choir is Randolph Stenson of the St. Mary's International School in Tokyo, Japan. Susan Keith Gray, Ph.D., USD professor of music, will serve as accompanist for the performance.

Tickets are $10 for general admission seating and will go on sale at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 5. For more information, contact the USD Department of Music at (605) 677-5274.

These two photos by Kami Lipp show the basketball hoop that was bent over and the base of the umbrella where it snapped off from the storm Monday night. The basketball hoop was more than likely damaged from the flying umbrella. Part of the fence was also bent.

Storm blows through Groton

A severe storm blew through Groton Monday night around 11 p.m., bringing with it 55 mph wind gusts and torrential heavy rain that amounted to 1.35 inches in a short time. There are many branches down around town. One of the umbrellas at the pool was broken off at the base and the loungers were scattered all over. The basketball hoop in the shallow end was also damaged as was part of the fence.

States Attorney drops all but one charge against city council

The office of the State's Attorney in Aberdeen has responded with a review of the complaints filed by Betty Breck against the City Council. All complaints, except for one, have no merit, according to Brown County States Attorney Larry Lovrien, and have no basis for either criminal prosecution or a referral to the South Dakota Open Meetings Commission for further action.

The single question that is still being considered is that the council went into executive session without voting on it. Lovrien said, "While the minutes of the meeting recite that a vote was taken, the city admits in its response that a review of the video tape of the meeting does not show this to be the case. Accordingly, I am submitting this single question to the South Dakota Open Commission for further review and possible action as provided by SDCL 1-25-6(3)."

The old black and yellow baracades at the Groton Airport have been replaced with new cones. The cones were given to the city by the state through a grant.

Pokémon GO causes Police Department to consider enforcing curfew

The Pokémon video game series has used real-world locations such as the Hokkaido and Kanto regions of Japan, New York, and Paris as inspiration for the fantasy settings in which its games take place. In Pokémon GO, the real world will be the setting!

According to the website pokemon.com, "Get on your feet and step outside to find and catch wild Pokémon. Explore cities and towns around where you live and even around the globe to capture as many Pokémon as you can. As you move around, your smartphone will vibrate to let you know you're near a Pokémon. Once you've encountered a Pokémon, take aim on your smartphone's touch screen and throw a Poké Ball to catch it. Be careful when you try to catch it, or it might run away! Also look for PokéStops located at interesting places, such as public art installations, historical markers,
and monuments, where you can collect more Poké Balls and other items." According to Groton Police Chief Stacy Mayou, Pokémon GO has arrived in Groton. As a result, it has raised safety concerns for local residents and he said at the council meeting Monday night that the department is looking at enforcing the curfew a little bit harder. "We have to look at the worst case scenero."

Mayou presented the council with the city ordinance on curfew, which is as follows:

Chapter 6-5 Minors

6-5-1 Curfew. It shall be unlawful for any boy or girl under the age of seventeen (17)
years to be on the streets, alleys, or public grounds of the City of Groton between the hours of 11:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., on Sunday - Monday, Monday - Tuesday, Tuesday
- Wednesday, Wednesday - Thursday, or Thursday - Friday; and between the hours of 12:30 a.m. and 6:00 a.m. on Friday - Saturday or Saturday - Sunday unless accompanied by some person of majority age having lawful custody or control over said minor or unless on some errand by permission or direction of his or her parents, guardian, or employer. He or she while on such errand shall not loiter on the way or make any undue noise by shouting or yelling or otherwise disturbing the peace
and quiet of the city.

6-5-2 Penalty. Any boy or girl who violates any of the provisions of section 6-5-1 shall be subject to arrest by any police officer or any citizen without process. Upon such arrest, he or she shall be taken and delivered into the hands of his or her parents or guardian. Upon a second or any subsequent arrest, such offender shall be taken by such police officer or person and presented to the circuit court of Brown County to be handled and punished as provided by law. Any parent or guardian or any person having lawful custody or control of any minor under the age of seventeen (17) years who shall allow, or permit said minor to violate the provisions of this chapter shall upon conviction thereof be subject to the penalties established in this ordinance (11-1-1).

Statement on South Dakota Health Insurance Rate Changes

Statement by Press Secretary Jonathan Gold on South Dakota health insurance rate changes: "Consumers in South Dakota will continue to have affordable coverage options in 2017. Last year, the average monthly premium for people with Marketplace coverage getting tax credits decreased by $20, from $130 to $110 per month, despite headlines suggesting double digit increases. People in South Dakota understand how the Marketplace works, and they know that they can shop around and find coverage that fits their needs and budget. In fact, last year more than 51 percent of them did exactly that by switching plans to save money. In addition, the vast majority of consumers in South Dakota qualify for tax credits that reduce the cost of coverage below the sticker price. Today's announcement is just the beginning of the rates process, and consumers will have the final word when they vote with their feet during Open Enrollment."

Background

Proposed rates aren't what consumers pay. While today's filings show an average rate increase in South Dakota, a report from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services demonstrates that proposed premium changes from preliminary rate filings do not capture what Marketplace consumers actually pay. In South Dakota the average Marketplace premium among people with tax credits decreased by $20, from $130 to $110 per month, despite headlines suggesting double digit increases.

Most people receive tax credits and can buy a plan for less than $75 per month.

- 88 percent of Marketplace consumers in South Dakota receive tax credits, which are designed to protect consumers from premium increases and help make coverage affordable.
- Tax credits increase if the cost of the second lowest-cost silver, or benchmark, plan goes up. So if all premiums in a market go up by similar amounts, 88 percent of Marketplace consumers in that market will not necessarily pay more because their tax credits will go up to compensate. Average rate increases reported with the preliminary rate filings do not account for tax credits.

- For 2016 coverage, 67 percent of customers in South Dakota had the option of selecting a plan with a premium of $75 or less per month after tax credits.

Shopping: The ACA Marketplace helps consumers shop around for the best deal.

- Prior to the ACA, it was nearly impossible for consumers to compare plans and shop around easily – and many Americans went uninsured because they couldn't afford insurance or had pre-existing conditions. Those who did have insurance in the individual market were often trapped in the plan they had, since people with even small health problems could be denied coverage or charged an exorbitant price if they tried to switch plans or issuers.

- Today, Marketplace consumers in South Dakota can purchase any available plan regardless of health conditions, and tools such as the doctor lookup and out-of-pocket cost calculator help them find the plan that meets their needs. Last year, 51 percent of returning Marketplace consumers in South Dakota switched plans. They saved an average of $144 annually.

- Based on an examination of preliminary 2017 rate filings for nine states that released rates earlier this year, Avalere found that the average rate increase for lowest and second-lowest cost silver plans was 7-8%, about half the overall average rate increase in these states. That difference highlights how consumers can benefit from shopping around.

Prior to the Affordable Care Act, plans were typically inferior and excluded services like maternity care, or even routine services like prescription drugs. Plans also often charged a higher premium, or denied coverage altogether, to consumers due to a pre-existing condition. Now, all consumers have the option to purchase quality, affordable coverage.

- This is a big deal for as many as 346,000 people in South Dakota with a pre-existing condition.

Preliminary rates aren't final rates. Preliminary rates often change significantly before being finalized. In particular, they are subject to rate review, which led to $1.5 billion in savings for consumers in 2015. Last year, final rates in some states were below proposed rates.

Health insurance is clearly something people in South Dakota like, want, and need: 25,999 people signed up for 2016 coverage through the Marketplace.

Both Marketplace and non-Marketplace consumers continue to benefit from the low health care cost growth of recent years.

- Marketplace rates remain well below expectations when the law was passed. Marketplace rates for 2014 came in about 15% below Congressional Budget Office (CBO) projections in 2010. Better-than-expected Marketplace premiums are due in large part to lower-than-expected economy-wide health care cost growth and other efficiencies.

- For the half of Americans who obtain health insurance through an employer, premiums for family coverage grew by an average of 5% per year from 2010 to 2015 – compared with about 8% per year from 2000 to 2010. Premiums grew at an even slower 4.2% rate in 2015. If premium growth since 2010 had matched the average growth rate over the prior ten years, the average family premium would have been almost $2,600 higher in 2015.

Olympic Symbols - A Pop Quiz!

Do you know the three main symbols used for the Olympic Games? The Olympic Rings and the Olympic Torch are the first two and are very well known around the world. There also is a motto that is in Latin which means "faster-higher-stronger" and refers to the competing athletes.

Read each statement about the symbols, and then circle "T" if it is true or "F" if it is false.

The 5 Olympic Rings:

- stand for the five major areas of the world: Americas, Africa, Asia, Europe and Oceania. T F
- are colored red, blue, green, yellow and black - chosen so that each nation has at least six of its colors in the rings. T F
- are linked on a flag of white to show harmony in the world. T F

The Olympic Torch:

- design is a new one chosen each year. T F
- if it is sunny, is lit by the sun using a special mirror. T F
- is carried from Athens, Greece (the first site of the games) to the city where the games are being held. T F
- is a symbol of peace and friendship. T F

The Olympic Village:

Farmen house given until May 1, 2017 to be torn down

Butch Farmen came before the council to discuss the intentions of his house. He said it needs to be torn down and plans to have it down within the next year. Mayor Scott Hanlon said the city was looking for something a little bit sooner, perhaps by summer's end. Councilman Mary Flihs said they should give him a year. He then proposed by May of 2017. The council agreed to give him until May 2017 and Farmen agreed to sign a contract that if was not torn down by May 1, 2017, the city would come in and remove it and bill it back to the property.

Kim Yarborough has a vehicle with expired plates in the back of her apartment. The council will give her two weeks as she is getting a duplicate title so she can donate it to a charity.

Police Chief Stacy Mayou reported that the new Tahoe had more repairs done to it. "We really need to start looking for a different vehicle," Mayou said. "I think we got one built Friday afternoon at the factory. We don't treat it any different than the other vehicles."

Kampa Construction bill for Sixth Street repair was $3,000 higher than the estimate due to extra work that was done. Clark Engineering oversaw the project and they said the bill was fair.

The city used nearly 6 million gallons of water in July, compared to the normal 2 million to 3 million.

Sixth Street will be opened on Wednesday. A motor in the Aspen Lift Station is going out and it will cost $1,350 in parts and $2,000 in labor. It is the main lift station that pumps the city's sanitary sewer to the lagoon.

There was a blink on the eastern part of Groton Monday morning due to excavators digging up a wire.

The end of the pool year was discussed. The last day of the pool will be September 4.

Councilman David Blackmun said that if there is a complaint, instead of having it listed as a concerned citizen, there should be a name associated with the complaint. "It gets away from anonymous complaining and sending the city to follow through," he said. "At least there will be accountability." The council will not adopt any new rules for public input at meetings, but will want names published on the agenda if there is a complaint.

The city will apply for a grant for playground equipment for the baseball field.

The council authorized Anita Lowary to attend the South Dakota Municipal League Conference October 4-7 in Rapid City.

Lowary was asked to be a board member on the South Dakota Public Assurance Alliance as there was a resignation on the board. The board meetings are in Pierre, Sioux Falls and Rapid City and one at a convention wherever that may be. The council decided to allow Lowary to serve on the board. The SDPAA board pays for the mileage and room.

The council will have a special meeting August 22nd to go over the 2017 budget.

A delinquent utility customer paid $400 of his $900 bill, which was suppose to be paid in full August 1. Lowary said that he had told her that he would have the other $400 next week. "I know it's tough," said councilman Eddy Opp, "but we can't be going back and forth." Mayor Hanlon said, "I know that Ed is right, but we need to show a little compassion." The council agreed that the power needs to be shut off because he was unable to fulfill his promise.

Opp said that the police department should be taking notes on yards that need mowing and handing them in to city hall.
